

Why The Rabbit Changes Color

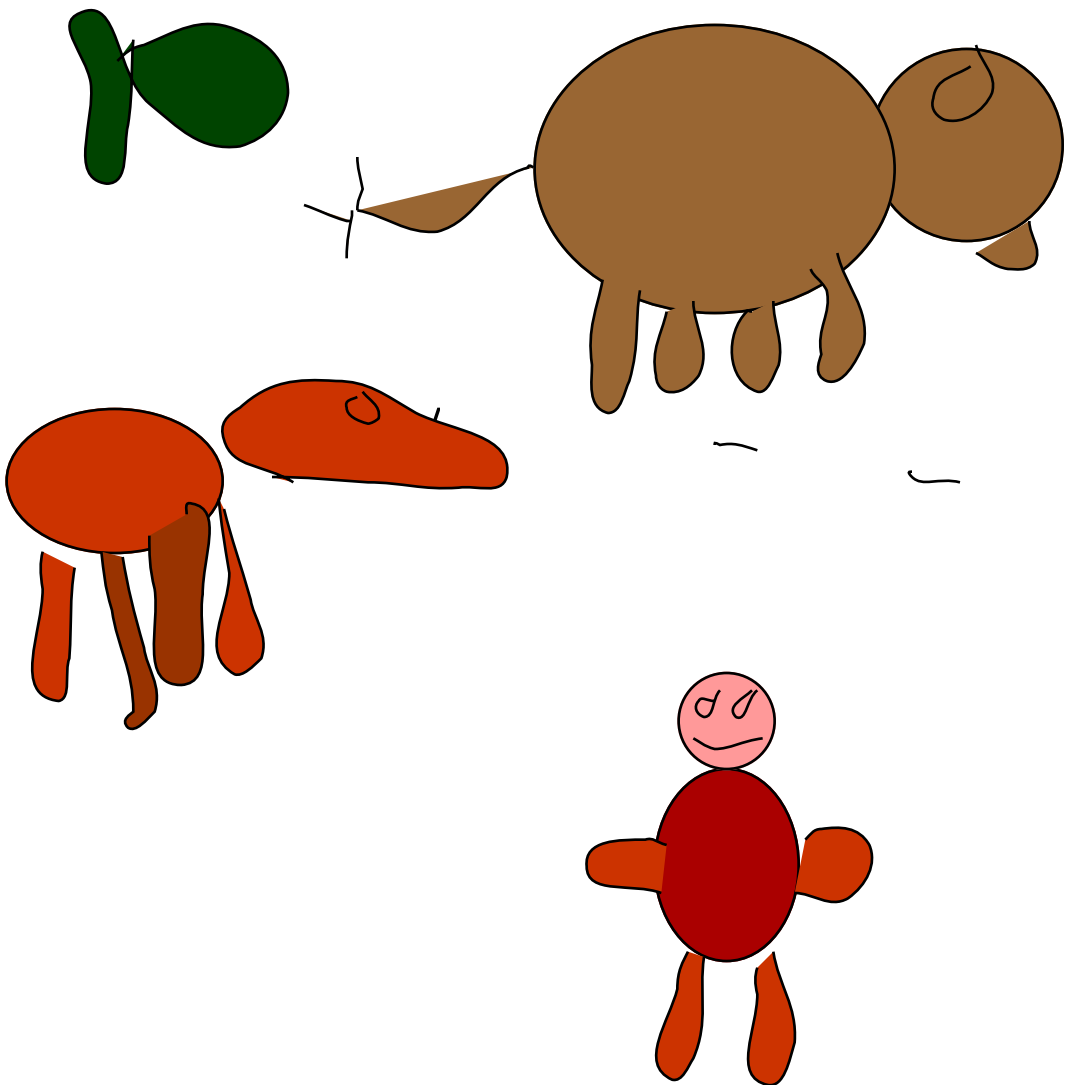

fairymagicforest.blogspot.com

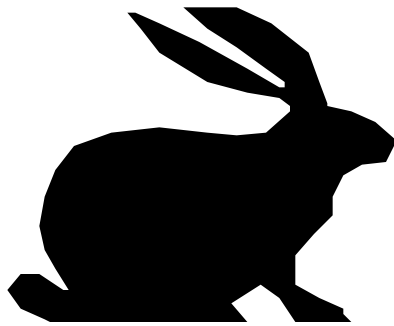

Written and Illustrated

By Alex

A long time ago, when rabbits were new, when the only other animals were buffalo, foxes, and humans, rabbits were only brown.

Jack rabbit was a curious rabbit who always thought he was better than everybody. But, Jack was so curious that when he went exploring he usually got into trouble.

One winter day, Jack and his friend, Peter were hopping in the woods. Suddenly, they saw a fox gliding across the path.

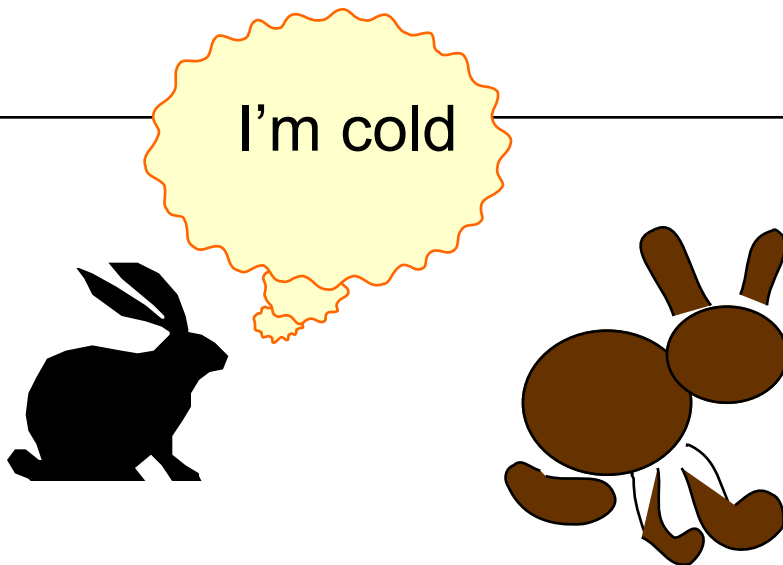

Just then, the fox
saw Peter and started
chasing him
he jumped into the snow to hide.

Then, the fox went on his way until the fox spotted Jack and chased him into the snow too.

Shivering, both rabbits hid under the snow

But, they got so cold that their fur turned white.

When summer
came their fur thawed
and turned brown
again

www.laspilitas.com

Since then, every
winter
rabbits turn white,
and that's why
rabbits
change color.

